FR. PAUL'S MESSAGE

Dear Friend of Carmel Mission,

We are all familiar with the saying, “no risk, no reward.” This is part of Jesus’ message in our Gospel today. The parables of the servants and the talents shows us that God both expects and requires us to take the gifts God gives us and put them to work in the world. The two servants who make more of what the master entrusts them with took the risk of losing a talent, a sum they could never hope to recoup, in order to invest and generate more wealth for the master. The third servant was too afraid to take the chance and simply hides the talent erroneously thinking that as long as he can give back what the master had given him, he will be in the clear.

The Gospel tells us that the third servant acted out of fear. Fear is one of the most crippling of human emotions, and is at the root of many of the world’s ills. Fear is the true opposite of love. Just as love is at the heart of the positive, fear is at the heart of the negative. Fear drives hatred, war, violence, neglect, the list goes on. But fear is part of the human condition, and we would be naïve deny it’s presence and potential impact on our lives.

Fortunately, in the readings today both Jesus and St. Paul offer some powerful antidotes. In the Gospel parable, the successful servants were as aware of the potential risk of failure, but they overcame their qualms to act as they know the master desired. Fear may be unavoidable, but it is conquerable. And in his letter to the Thessalonians, St. Paul reminds them, and all of us, that we are children of the light. The world may be an unpredictable and at times frightening, place, but we not left alone in the darkness. Our Savior laid down His life so that we would know beyond the shadow of a doubt that we are loved by the God of light, love and hope. Secure in this knowledge, we are able to shine His light into the world’s shadows to drive out fear and bring healing and peace.

I wish you and you loved blessing of good health and new hope. Please continue to pray for peace in our wounded world. May God’s light always overcome the darkness of fear,

Fr. Paul

October 17, 2023

My dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

War, whether it be in Ukraine or in the Middle East is terrible. It is heart wrenching for the people living in these respective locations, but also for family and friends who care about those who live there.

Today, Tuesday, October 17, Cardinal Pierbattista Pizzaballa, Archbishop Latin Primate of Jerusalem, called for us to join him in praying for Peace and Reconciliation in the Holy Land. We spiritually accompany him in prayer, not only today, but also in the days ahead. The terrible massacre of Israeli children, women, and men (young and old) on Saturday, October 7th (Our Lady of the Rosary) was unthinkable and horrific. Now, hostages are being held. There is no excuse for this kind of violence and hate, regardless of what country or people. Every act of violence and hate begets more violence and hate!

How many times have I cried out upon hearing of such an atrocity, “When will we learn, O Lord?” Amidst, these difficult days, it is easy to become cynical and disengaged when this War seems to be so distant from us here in the United States. Regardless of national origin, these are our brothers and sisters!

Cardinal Pizzaballa has urged Catholics to organize times of praying with Eucharistic Adoration and recitation of the Rosary, “to deliver to God the Father our thirst for peace, justice and reconciliation.” He also said, “In this time of sorrow and dismay, we do not want to remain helpless. We cannot let death and its sting (1 Cor 15-55) be the only word we hear.” “That is why we feel the need to pray, to turn our hearts to God the Father. Only in his way we can draw the strength and serenity needed to endure these hard times, by turning to him, in prayer and intercession, to implore and cry out to God amidst this anguish.”

As this war progresses, just as in Ukraine, let us be mindful of the humanitarian crisis that is growing exponentially every day. Innocent civilians, whether they be of Israeli or Palestinian descent are caught up in the middle of these acts of terror and destruction. There are NO winners!

Let us not forget to pray also for emergency and humanitarian workers: those who are assisting victims of this violence, who are in need of food, water, health care, and shelter. May our Lady of Peace intercede for all of us during this difficult time!

Your brother in Christ,

Most Reverend Daniel E. Garcia
Bishop of Monterey

PRAYER FOR PEACE

Please join us to pray for peace in our fractured world each Friday in November, beginning Friday, November 3, in the Blessed Sacrament Chapel. Mass will be at 12pm followed by the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament and the recitation of the rosary to Our Lady, Queen of Peace, seeking her intercession. Adoration will continue until 5pm. We pray for an end to war and violence in the Holy Land, in Ukraine, and here in our nation. In the words of our Holy Father, Pope Francis,

"Lord, defuse the violence of our tongues and our hands. Renew our hearts and minds, so that the word which always brings us together will be "brother", and our way of life will always be that of: Shalom, Peace, Salaam!"

Scripture Reflection

The parable we hear Jesus tell His disciples in the Gospel today continues His teaching about the last days. Every disciple, like the master's slaves in the parable has the responsibility of using the gifts we have been given by God for the sake of the Kingdom. To each of the three slaves the master gives an enormous amount of money. At a conservative estimate, a talent was worth more than fifteen years wages for a laborer. The slaves are given no instruction on what they are to do with the money: they are simply entrusted with it, each according to his ability. Each must decide how to exercise his stewardship in his master's absence; there is no question of the slaves being in competition with one another. The master has taken a risk with both his money and his slaves. The first two slaves respond by taking risks and trading with the money in order to make more, not for themselves, but for their master. The third slave plays it safe. Cautious, imaginative and fearful, he buries the one talent, a method considered safe for hiding money in the ancient world. But safety is not the goal here. Discipleship is more than a comfortable holding on to gifts God has given us. It invites and challenges us to action, to risk-taking, to increasing the yield of good works and sharing those with others. The Gospel also introduces an important concept in our life of faith: faithfulness in small matters is now we practice our readiness to be faithful in greater ways. The first reading echoes the idea that faithfulness in daily labors is how one lives out a lifelong commitment. The second reading has the late fall, pre-Advent flavor, where we are reminded of the end times and our need to stay prepared. In light of the Gospel and first reading, we know how to do this; through commitment to small, daily acts of faith and love.

ACT OF SPIRITUAL COMMUNION

My Jesus,

I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.

I love You above all things,
and I desire to receive You into my soul.

Since I cannot at this moment
receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart.

I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You.

Never permit me to be separated from You.

Amen.

Altar Flowers Opportunity

The Altar Flowers are given today in honor of the Vivas- Montenegro Family by Victoria Peach

Here at Carmel Mission we are very fortunate to be surrounded by natural beauty in our wonderful gardens, and we receive feedback from parishioners and visitors alike on how much they enjoy the flowers, plants and trees on our property. The beauty of nature is a concrete reminder of the beauty of God, in whose image we are made. When we enjoy beautiful flowers, plants and trees we are celebrating God's gift of the natural world.

We are so happy to continue the beauty of altar flowers at our Masses each week. We invite you to consider sponsoring a bouquet for $90 in memory or honor of a loved one, to celebrate a birthday or anniversary, or in thanksgiving to God.

The altar flowers will be a part of our weekend Masses and your dedication will included in our weekly e-bulletin.

Please contact Laura at liturgy@carmelmission.org for more information and to schedule your gift. Thank you so much for your generosity and for helping to ensure that these symbols of beauty and life are part of our weekly celebrations.

Carmel Mission Legacy Society

Click the thumbnail to the right to watch a short video about the Carmel Mission Legacy Society by Fr. Paul.

What is Legacy Society?

We owe an untold debt of gratitude to countless individuals — over many decades — whose benevolence made today's Mission a reality. Their generosity not only restored the Mission's structures to their former glory but also helped restore a house of faith, education, and outreach that is deeply rooted in our community.

This legacy of giving is the inspiration behind the Carmel Mission Legacy Society. Its purpose is to acknowledge past gifts and honor those who include Carmel Mission in their estate planning.

Legacy gifts provide a unique opportunity to ensure perpetual care for Carmel Mission. Your gift will help this historic and sacred church serve as a house of worship, an educational resource, and support for the most vulnerable in our community, for generations to come.

Ways You Can Give

Through planned giving, there are many ways to make a gift to Carmel Mission without impacting your own financial future. When you include Carmel Mission in your will or living trust or as a beneficiary of your retirement plan or life-insurance policy, you can plan, with confidence, that your generosity will support the Mission after your lifetime.

A legacy gift does not alter your current lifestyle in any way and allows you to leave a legacy without giving up your assets. It is important to note that the bequest is revocable, allowing you to change your mind at any time should your circumstances change.

FIRST LIBRARY OF CALIFORNIA

As an update to the ongoing Convento Library cataloging project, I'd like to focus today on some of the people who used these books in their daily lives and as part of their missionary activity. It was not uncommon in the eighteenth century, as it is today, for people to write their names in books that they owned. I still do the same, as I suspect many of you do, too. Franciscan brothers would often write their names in certain books, sometimes along with other information, in what we call inscriptions. It's been especially interesting while examining the Convento books to look at these inscriptions, since they tell us about who used a particular book and when, and they give us clues as to when the book arrived at our library and from where.

Of course I would be thrilled to report that we have books "signed" by, or inscribed by Saint Junipero. We don't. That's probably not a coincidence. Junipero Serra was above all a very humble man, and as a devout Franciscan he did not believe in personal ownership. Father Serra would have viewed the books in the library as common property, which is to say property of the Order of Friars Minor.

We do have one enticing piece of evidence, though, that Saint Serra used a particular book, and that is very special indeed. This book was printed in 1761 and bears the title: "El Peregrino con Guia," or "The Pilgrim with a Guide." It is otherwise a fairly nondescript book with a vellum, or leather, wrapped binding. On the back of the leather cover is an ink inscription that reads: "para el padre Junipero," or "for Father Junipero." This is so far the only book I've discovered with Father Serra's name on it. The reason for this particular inscription on the binding is hard to ascertain. The book might have been a gift, or someone simply wanted to indicate that Padre Junipero wanted to see this particular book, or maybe had even asked for it. In any case, we can certainly imagine Saint Junipero in his room, late at night, reading this particular book by candlelight.

We do have the names of some other missionaries in books, some well known, others not. Another name we might all recognize is that of Father Francisco Palou, Junipero Serra's biographer, one-time student, and good friend. In a large book on St. Bernardine of Siena, we read the Latin inscription on the title page: "Utilitur [for use by] Fray Franciscus Palou," using a Latinized version of his first name. Whether or not this is by his own hand is hard to determine and will require more close comparison with known examples of his writing, but nonetheless it shows his interest in this one book.

 BASILICA

FIRST LIBRARY OF CALIFORNIA

A few of our bookworms are less known to us. A number of books contain handwritten inscriptions by Padre Dionisio Basterra. He is especially prominent in the first bookcase, that is, he liked the large books. The interesting fact about Father Basterra is that he never came up to Alta California. Instead, we find him in Baja, California, where Father Serra met him on his way up to founding Mission San Diego. We don't know much else about Basterra, except that he was a young man and completely on his own at Mission Santa Gertrudis. He eventually returned to the College of San Fernando in Mexico City. How the books with his name in them came to be here in Carmel is a mystery.

Finally, I'll introduce one last book lover, Pedro Benito Cambon. We know more about Father Cambon because he worked for many years in Alta California alongside Father Serra. Cambon departed for New Spain in 1769. His initial destination was the newly established mission of San Diego, but he went on to land at Monterey on 21 May, 1771. Once he arrived here on our own shores, Father Serra directed him and Fray Angel Somera to found Mission San Gabriel. This they did on 8 September, 1771. Soon enough, Cambon returned to San Diego, but bigger things were still in store for him. In 1776, Pedro Cambon and Francisco Palou reached the site of what was to become Mission Dolores in San Francisco. After three years there as Palou's assistant, Cambon returned to Mexico due to ill health, but he wasn't done yet. After recovering, he returned to San Gabriel, then went on to help found Mission San Buenaventura in 1782. His service in Alta California in fact continued until 1791. The next year he returned to his native Spain again in ill health, but his place and year of death are unknown.

This brief review of some of the readers and custodians of our Mission books will be followed in a few months time by another update, this time on the markings used by institutions and missions to claim ownership of their own books.

MISSION DOORS RESTORATION PROJECT

We have undertaken the much needed restoration of many of the beautiful wooden doors at Carmel Mission.

The doors of the Carmel Mission are based on designs seen throughout the California Mission Chain and designs replicated throughout the Southwest, Mexico, and Spain. We do have some information that is helpful..

For example the Mission's main entrance doors we are fairly certain are based on Sir Harry Downie's affinity of the doors at Mission Dolores.

MISSION DOORS RESTORATION PROJECT

The much heralded and appreciate “River of Life” door design has been given much attention as it is a prominent feature at many of our Historic Missions. From a traditional understandings that has grown over time the River of Life motif is a direct reference to Revelation 22:

1 And he showed me a river of water of life, bright as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb, 2 in the midst of the street thereof. And on this side of the river and on that was the tree of life, bearing twelve manner of fruits, yielding its fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

From and other perspective the three wavy lines have been linked to the trinity. The design of three is a common motif in Church architecture.

As you will see in the before and after photographs, the restoration has brought new life to many of the doors.

MISSION DOORS RESTORATION PROJECT

This project has also given us an opportunity to observe the diversity of architectural styles and incredible workmanship that went into creating the doors.

In a recent conversation pertaining to the unique design with noted Spanish Colonial architecture expert Gloria Giffords shared that all of these perspectives are “dandy ideas”. She shared we really don’t know where these interpretations come from because we don’t have any documentation from when this design was first introduced. In a world that offers so many answers and information it is good that our Mission Church still has a few more mysteries to share. It is even better that we continue to preserve and protect these unique architectural features for future generations to ponder and explore.

Carmel Mission Book Club

Book Club meets in Crespi Hall every Friday at 1:30 pm

Book Club is reading The Reed of God by Caryll Houselander. This spiritual classic contains meditations on the humanity of Mary, Mother of God, and lovingly depicts Our Lady as a musical instrument making divine love known to the world.

Meetings are held in Crespi Hall on Friday afternoons at 1:30. Books are available at the meetings, and everyone is welcome to attend. Please email christina.renna@gmail.com for information.

The Most Precious Gift

This Advent, Deacon Warren will lead an exploration of Jesus' birth and its impact. We'll look at the social and historical context of the world into which Jesus was born. Next, we'll take a close look at the theology of the coming of the Son of God and the incarnation of the Holy Trinity. Finally, we'll examine how Jesus changed his world (and ours!)

Classes will be held Wednesday evenings in Advent, December 6, 13, and 20, at 6PM in Crespi Hall. No pre-registration necessary. See you there!

FALGE FARMWORKERS MINISTRY

Christmas is when the Carmel Mission Falge Farmworkers Ministry provides special seasonal items to help every child and adult in the camps which we donate to every month, celebrate the joy of this holy season. We provide large grocery bags filled with staple pantry items for each family, and a gift card for every individual.

We invite you to visit our display tables in the Courtyard before or after Mass to find out more about the ministry or help us with your financial support.

You are being enriched in every way for all generosity, which through us produces thanksgiving to God, for the administration of this public service is not only supplying the needs of the holy ones but is also overflowing in many acts of thanksgiving to God.

2 Corinthians 9:11-12

St. Jude Thaddeus—Patron Saint of Lost Causes

Feast Day: October 28 - Patron of Desperate Cases

Saint Jude, known as Thaddeus, was the nephew of Mary and Joseph, and a cousin of our Lord. He was the brother of the apostle James the Less. As a young man, Saint Jude knew Jesus well, and left everything to follow Him. At Pentecost, Saint Jude, along with Mother Mary and the other disciples of Jesus, was filled with the Holy Spirit. Tongues like fire rested on their heads, as the Holy Spirit gave the disciples the grace and the fervent desire to reach out to the lost of the world with the message of God's love. That is why Saint Jude is often pictured with a tongue of fire on his head. Saint Jude is pictured wearing an image of Jesus because through the power of Jesus' name he healed a king suffering from leprosy. Saint Jude also wrote a Letter, or Epistle, that we find in the New Testament. He encourages us to keep strong in our faith even when it is not easy. The two apostles, Saints Simon and Jude, labored as missionaries in the country of Armenia, where they suffered martyrdom. Saint Jude's relics today are honored in Saint Peter's basilica in Rome.

Art From the Carmel Mission*

Our Mission is home to a vast collection of beautiful art from centuries past, and in their book, Gail Sheridan and Mary Pat McCormick gives us background knowledge on various pieces and the artists that created them. The Art From the Carmel Mission was originally written and published by members of our Docent Ministry, Gail and Mary Pat in 2011. Since then, they have made addition to the book including the canonization of Saint Junípero Serra in September 2015.
