Today’s Reading

First Reading
Then you shall call, and the LORD will answer,… Here I am! (Is 58:7-10)

Psalm
The just man is a light in darkness to the upright. (Ps 112:4-5, 6-7, 8-9)

Second Reading
my message and my proclamation were... with a demonstration of Spirit and power, so that your faith might rest... on the power of God. (1 Cor 2:1-5)

Gospel
your light must shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your heavenly Father.” (Mt 5:13-16)

In the Gospel today Jesus tells his disciples and all of us “Just so your light must shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your heavenly Father.” This statement may seem in contradiction with a something Jesus will say later in this same sermon, “ Take care not to perform righteous deeds in order that people may see them” (Matt 6:1). We know from the parable of the Pharisee and the tax collector that God prefers humble prayer to grandstanding. Yet we are called to shine before others so our good deeds may glorify God. Why not? We are each a marvelous creation of God, made in God’s own image and loved infinitely by him. Every unique gift we have was given to us by our creator for a reason. These gifts are not necessarily special talents we are born with, God also gave us our intelligence, our ability to learn and grow, the curiosity to explore our world and ourselves, and the discipline to persevere in the our pursuits. We must use our abilities not to bring glory and adulation to ourselves, but as witness to the glory and majesty of our God, and to further the work of God’s Kingdom. We must not hide ourselves under a proverbial bushel basket out of self-consciousness or sense of unworthiness. We are all made, by God, for greatness. When we shine before others we can inspire them, give them comfort and courage, we are testimony that God is great, and we can remind them that they too, as a beloved child of God, were also born to greatness. How are you shining in the world to bring glory to your heavenly Father?

Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (RCIA)

Are you someone or do you know someone who...

- Has expressed an interest in becoming Catholic?
- Was baptized Catholic but has not celebrated the Sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist?

We offer an opportunity to come together in a small group to learn more about our faith. Sessions focus on the teachings and experience of Church and prepare individuals to celebrate the Sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist during the Easter season, and for their lifelong journey as mature and well-formed Catholics. We warmly welcome your participation in the process with your questions, your insights and your faith story in a warm accepting setting.

For information please contact Rosellen Sanna at (831) 624-1271 ext. 218 or rosellen.sanna@carmelmission.org.

Hospitality Ministry: Coffee and Donuts Needs More Volunteers

The Carmel Mission Hospitality Ministry is looking for volunteers to sign up as on call substitutes. Those that sign up may be contacted to fill in when volunteers are unable to host Coffee and Donuts.

If you would like to sign up please contact Chris Stone, Hospitality Ministry Leader.

Please Pray For Our Military
Keep in prayer our brave parishioners, relatives and friends of our parish family who are in service to their country in the Armed Forces abroad: Michael Healy, Richard Brophy and Robert Maher
We ask the Lord to keep them safe from harm and pray for their families while they are far from home.
THE SACRAMENT OF THE ANointing OF THE Sick

This week we take a brief pause in our look at the Order of Mass to learn about the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick, which is being celebrated during the 11am Mass this Sunday in honor of the World Day of the Sick.

“The Church believes and confesses that among the seven sacraments there is one especially intended to strengthen those who are being tried by illness, the Anointing of the Sick” (Catechism of the Catholic Church, n. 1511).

The Council of Trent (1551) taught that “this sacred anointing of the sick was instituted by Christ our Lord as a true and proper sacrament of the New Testament. It is alluded to indeed by Mark (cf. 6:13) but is recommended to the faithful and promulgated by James the apostle and brother of the Lord” (Denzinger, n. 1695). In this letter, Saint James “the Less” says:

“Is any among you sick? Let him call for the presbyters of the Church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord; and the prayer of faith will save the sick man, and the Lord will raise him up; and if he has committed sins, he will be forgiven” (James 5:14-15).

According to the Catechism of the Catholic Church:

“From ancient times in the liturgical traditions of both East and West, we have testimonies to the practice of anointings of the sick with blessed oil. Over the centuries the Anointing of the Sick was conferred more and more exclusively on those at the point of death. Because of this it received the name ‘Extreme Unction’. Notwithstanding this evolution the liturgy has never failed to beg the Lord that the sick person may recover his health if it would be conducive to his salvation (n. 1512).

According to the Compendium of the Catechism of the Catholic Church, “the celebration of this sacrament consists essentially in an anointing with oil which may be blessed by the bishop. The anointing is on the forehead and on the hands of the sick person... accompanied by the prayer of the priest who asks for the special grace of this sacrament” (n. 318).

Through this holy anointing may the Lord in his love and mercy help you with the grace of the Holy Spirit. Amen.
May the Lord who frees you from sin
save you and raise you up. Amen.

The Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick “confers a special grace which unites the sick person more intimately to the Passion of Christ for his good and for the good of all the Church. It gives comfort, peace, courage, and even the forgiveness of sins if the sick person is not able to make a confession. Sometimes, if it is the will of God, this sacrament even brings about the restoration of physical health. In any case this Anointing prepares the sick person for the journey to the Father’s House” (Catechism, n. 319).

Ashes for Ash Wednesday are made from old palms from Palm Sunday. Please bring your old palms to the Basilica or to the Blessed Sacrament Chapel between Sunday, February 9th and Sunday, February 23rd.

Many of you have supported the JSS Opportunity Fund, which as you know provides tuition assistance for families that desire a good Catholic education but can’t quite pay the full cost of tuition.

Some parishioners have also made generous contributions to the school to support specific programs. One such parishioner is Mr. Robert Balles. Mr. Balles is a retired college mathematics professor and wishes to support math education at Carmel Mission School. His generous donation to the school has allowed us to add a new component to our math program.

JSS is blazing a trail for Catholic education into the 21st century by using a new adaptive learning software tool called Freckle. Freckle is a state of the art adaptive learning platform and received the 2019 Tech & Learning Award of Excellence. As you may know, adaptive learning is technology-enabled personalized learning that uses algorithms and artificial intelligence to modify content to learners’ responses in real time. As students grow and learn while working math problems, Freckle constantly adjusts to give them the perfect amount of practice at the right level of instruction and challenge...

Two recent independent research reports validate the efficacy of this adaptive learning platform. One report found that “Students in classrooms where teachers used Freckle exhibited much higher growth than students that did not. In addition, students who used Freckle grew significantly more than student norms for the NWEA MAP test.” A second report found, “In the 2017-2018 school year, Freckle’s top districts saw 0.9 grade level growth across their active students in a 6-month period. Freckle’s rigorous, evidence-based differentiation platform supports the growth of all students when used as a supplementary classroom resource.”

Mr. Balles’ passion for mathematics and his commitment to Catholic education has provided teachers a new and effective tool to improve student math achievement at Junipero Serra School.

I am happy to announce that in addition to supporting the expansion of our math program, Mr. Balles has donated funds to incentivize excellence in mathematics for middle school students through practice and achievement. We are announcing the Robert Balles Excellence in Mathematics Award. The top three middle school students who achieve the highest level of growth as measured by Average Grade Growth within the Freckle Adaptive Learning Platform will receive a prize. These students will be recognized in our quarterly and semester awards ceremonies.

On behalf of the Faculty and Student of Junipero Serra School, thank you Mr. Balles for your support of Carmel Mission’s school!

With the continued support of the Carmel Mission Parish, we will continue to build upon the tradition of excellence at Junipero Serra School. Thank you.

Fray Junipero Serra Receiving Viaticum by Mariano Guerrero

The oil on canvas painting now hanging over the Serra Reliquary on the right wall of the nave is a copy of a work by Mariano Guerrero, a Mexican artist of the late 1700’s. This unsigned copy is said to have been commissioned by Fr. Ramon Mestres (pastor at San Carlos Cathedral) circa 1923. The original Guerrero painting is dated 1785 and is now at the National History Museum in Chapultepec Palace, Mexico City.

The painting shows Fr. Serra receiving communion, known as Viaticum. Viaticum is a term used especially in the Catholic Church for the Eucharist (communion) administered, with or without anointing of the sick, to a person who is dying and is thus a part of the last rites. Fr. Serra died the day after this scene.

In this artistic representation of the Viaticum ceremony, Fr. Serra kneels at the altar of the Serra Adobe (the 5th church of the Mission) in front of his long time friend and companion, Fr. Francisco Palou, the presiding priest. One of the 3 other priests in the painting is Fr. Matais de Catalina y Noriega, an assistant at the Carmel Mission (1781-1787) but the identity of the others is unknown.

Assorted local people including soldiers and Mission Indians are shown kneeling and standing including Governor Pedro Fages on the left side in the green tunic. The Spanish Baroque style reredos conforms to early descriptions of the Mission. Above the altar is the statue of Our Lady of Bethlehem which is now found in the chapel on the left side of the center of the Basilica.

 Shortly after Serra’s death, Fr. Palou wrote to the Guardian of San Fernando College, Fr. Juan Sancho, suggesting that Serra be remembered on canvas and he described the scene as shown in Guerrero’s painting. Fr. Sancho commissioned the painting which was displayed at San Fernando College until at least 1853. At some point in time, it became the property for the Mexican government.

This insight into the Mission history was provided by the Carmel Mission Docent Association. If you would like to find out more about becoming a Docent, please contact Nancy Hardy at nhardycarmel@att.net or 831-624-8846.

—Fr. Paul, Pastor
Dear Friends of Carmel Mission,

This weekend we are honored to have Bishop Danny celebrate our 11:00am mass, during which we will have the Sacrament of the Anointing of Sick.
I thank the Knights and Dames of the Order of Malta for assisting us in organizing this annual mass for World Day of the sick.

We are all in need of healing. Jesus is the One who heals us through the power of the Holy Spirit.
He seeks our help in continuing His ongoing mission to bring healing to our world.
I’m sharing with you here a favorite poem of mine by Francis Stuart:

“The Love, The Loss, The Dream....”

I’ve never struck a bargain in my life,
Trafficking in the hardest currencies
I’ve mostly come away with tinsel trash
But once or twice I’ve gained realities:
The bread and wine, the love, the loss, the dream,
But only at the staggering market price.
And finally I prayed, not just as I was bid:
“Lord, make me clean,”
But: “Come and share with me my leper lair,
That’s if you dare,”
And so He did.

Wishing you blessings of good health and great happiness,

Fr. Paul
