The Most Holy Trinity, May 27, 2018

Go . . . and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.— Matthew 28:19

As the bells call us to Mass and announce our joy, the bells also remind us of our call to share that joy with the world.

Over and over again today we hear that we are a part of God's family. The psalm refrain proclaims, "Blessed the people the Lord has chosen, chosen to be his own." St. Paul in his letter to the Romans asserts that we are the children of God and that like Jesus we too cry out "Abba, Father!" We are part of God's family, especially through our Baptism.

What does it mean to be a part of God's family? It means that we must follow God's statutes and commandments as Moses exhorts the people in Deuteronomy. Being part of God's family means that we are called to go out and make disciples of all nations and to baptize more people into the family of God. We are called to expand the family and share the love with all. God's love knows no boundaries.

We meet each Wednesday morning at Crespi at 10:30.
All are invited!

Copies of Grace upon Grace: A History of the Diocese of Monterey in California by parishioner Geoffrey Lopes da Silva are still available for purchase in the Museum Store for $40.

Do you want to make a difference in our community? Do you want to grow your understanding of the Mass? We are seeking applicants who are motivated and spiritual individuals to be Lectors, Eucharistic Ministers, Ushers, Sacristans, Acolytes, and Altar Servers.

Lectors proclaim the Word of God at Mass with prayer and preparation at home ahead of time. In this ministry, you will enrich your understanding of scripture and get to share that with the community through the way that you proclaim the readings.

Eucharistic Ministers distribute the Body and Blood of Christ at Mass. In this ministry, you will bring your own devotion to the Eucharist and share that with others and in the process deepen your devotion to the Eucharist.

Ushers welcome everyone to the church, help people find seats, and guide the congregation through the collections and communion procession. In this ministry, you get to meet and build relationships with parishioners and get to welcome visitors to the Peninsula and help them feel at home.

Sacristans do all of the behind the scenes work to setup and prepare for Mass as well as cleaning up. In this ministry, you will get to learn what is used during Mass and why and have the opportunity to take ownership of the care of our sacred vessels.

Acolytes assist the priests and deacons with all needs during Mass. In this ministry, you will be an integral part of the team in the sanctuary and you will get to participate in some way in all of the sacraments which leads to a greater appreciation for the sacraments.

Altar servers are the children grades 3-8 that also help on the altar with the candles and the book. In this ministry, you get to make friends with other altar servers and get to see what happens during Mass up close, a special privilege.

Join in a team of caring and friendly people and at the same time serve the community and the Lord. You will have the opportunity to learn more about your faith and enrich your experience of Mass. Application process includes fingerprinting and an online safe environment training program as well as an in-person training for the specific ministry.

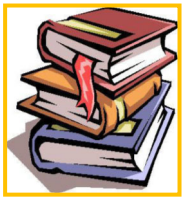
Carmel Mission Book Club adds an Additional Meeting Time!
Carmel Mission Book Club adds an Additional Meeting Time



Carmel Mission Book Club will continue to read and discuss Rebel in the Ranks at 2pm Saturdays in the Rectory Garden.

We added e a new Book Club meeting time for the month of May,. We meet Wednesday at 3:30p m in Crespi Hall to discuss John Pilch's Healing in the New Testament. How are we to read and understand stories of Jesus healing the lame, deaf, blind, and those with a variety of other maladies? Pilch takes us beyond the historical and literary questions to examine the social questions of how the earliest followers of Jesus and ancient Judeans understood healing, what roles healers played, and the different emphases on healing among the gospels.

The book is free; offerings to cover the cost of the book and shipping are gratefully accepted. Refreshments are served.

The Marian Alcove

As you enter the Basilica there is a little shrine on your left lodged against the outside of the Convento complex where Curator Harry Downie built a small shrine to the Virgin Mary called the Marian Alcove.

After he restored the Mission Orchard House (his the first restoration) Harry Downie rebuilt the partially-standing adobe building that now houses the First California Library and was his living quarters for a number of years. His next project was in the corner of this building, the Marian Alcove

While not too much is known about this shrine, the following facts have been uncovered from various sources:

The statue of Mary holding the child Jesus is Flemish and is carved of wood. It was originally located at the Presidio Chapel in Monterey. Harry repaired the statue's hand and crown which had been damaged by vandals.

The beam over the alcove is an original wooden beam that Harry salvaged from the Mission ranch barn.

The words Ave Maria Purísima (Hail Mary, most pure) are carved into the beam with the letters of the carving joined together and on top of each other so that they look like a single word or an abbreviation.

On the right side of the alcove is a sandstone tablet with the Coat of Arms of the Franciscan Order. This was an original artifact of the Mission that had been in the possession of the Munrás family of Monterey who returned it during the restoration.

On the left side of the alcove is a sandstone tablet with the Coat of Arms of the Dominican Order. It was carved by Harry to balance and compliment the Franciscan Coat of Arms.

The roof of the shrine contains the remaining serviceable tiles from the original Mission tile roof.

The stone step at the front of the shrine was the original altar step of the church.

The wall behind the shrine is the original adobe wall from a Mission Padre's cell. The wall contains both original adobe bricks and those fabricated from the original crumbled adobe bricks.

This insight into the Mission history was provided by the Carmel Mission Docent Association

Bereavement Ministry

The Rite of Committal – Burial or Interment

In our continuing series on Catholic Funeral Rites we look at the Rite of Committal, the third of three parts in the sequence of the Rite. In previous columns we discussed the Vigil, an optional part of the Vigil, the Eulogy, and the Funeral Liturgy (Funeral Mass). In the final column in the series we will discuss ways you can work with members of the Bereavement Ministry to plan a funeral. Our goal is to encourage all parishioners to learn about this important part of sacramental life in the Christian community and to be given the resources to make informed decisions for themselves and loved ones.

Where is the Rite of Committal?

This final part of the Catholic Funeral has several variations, depending on the situation of the family, and can take place at the gravesite, tomb or crematorium. The typically brief ceremony of Scriptural reading and prayers can be led by a priest, deacon, lay minister or member of the family.

In the Order of Christian Funerals (OCF) the National Council of Catholic Bishops explains the Rite of Committal as "an expression of the communion that exists between the Church on earth and the Church in heaven: the deceased passes with the farewell prayers of the community of believers into the welcoming company of those who need faith no longer but see God face to face.

What about Cremation?

In1963 cremation became an allowed practice for Catholics as long as the reason for cremation is not to deny Christian teaching, especially that of the resurrection of the dead and the immortality of the soul. While the preferred practice is still the burial or entombment of the body of the deceased, and the Church strongly prefers the body of the deceased be present for the Funeral Rites, the Church recognizes that this is not always practical. However, the OCF mandates that cremated remains must be treated with the same dignity and respect as the corporal remains of a human body, including a worthy vessel for the remains and attention to appropriate placement and transport. For final disposition the remains can be entombed in a mausoleum or columbarium or buried in a common grave in a cemetery. The practice of scattering remains over land or sea or keeping remains in the home of a relative or friend are not considered the reverent disposition the Church requires.

If you have questions, concerns or suggestions, please call Loretta Hay at (831) 624-1271 x208, leave your name and phone number, and a Bereavement Minister will contact you.

Saint Michael the Archangel is God's most trusted angel, a heavenly messenger who carries out His every command. Michael means one who is like God. Saint Michael is a fierce and powerful warrior, protector, and guardian.

Saint Michael is the guardian of Israel and the protector of the Church. When the angel Lucifer— Satan— and his other bad angels started a war in heaven, Michael and his good angels fought them and drove them out of heaven.

Because he is the protector and defender of God's people as well as the angel who brings souls to judgement, Saint Michael the Archangel is recognized today as the patron of police officers, Armed Forces, and all those who keep us safe.
