Today's Reading

First Reading — Peter is an eyewitness: The Lord is risen (Acts 10:34a, 37-43).

Psalm — This is the day the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad (Psalm 118).

(1) Second Reading — All who are baptized, set your hearts on heaven (Colossians 3:1-4) or

(2) Second Reading — Christ our Passover is sacrificed; therefore let us celebrate (1 Corinthians 5:6b-8).

Gospel — Three witnesses, Mary, Peter, and John; each responds to the empty tomb (John 20:1-9) or Luke 24:1-12 (or, at an afternoon or evening Mass, Luke 24:13-35).

Imagine the chaos of that first Easter morning: people running back and forth from the tomb, frantic to know what has happened to the body of their teacher and friend. In the Gospel of John, unlike Luke's Gospel telling of this story, there are no "men in dazzling garments" offering an explanation, however fantastical, for where Jesus has gone. Mary of Magdala fears someone has taken the body of her Lord, Peter and the beloved disciple run to the tomb, and when beloved disciple (who had remained with Jesus through his death on the cross) enters the empty tomb, he believes, with no more evidence then the set aside burial clothes. Even though he does not yet understand that Jesus has risen from the dead, he believes. So it must be for us, we believe before we can understand, for to understand the awesome mystery of our God is our lifelong journey of faith. We will reflect on, and study, and explore the immense and immeasurable love that God has for each of us, that He would send his Son to suffer and die to redeem the world, and that the power of this great love would conquer death itself, all our lives. We can never exhaust this story, though at times, the story may exhaust us, but more often it inspires, comforts, and nourishes us in each re-telling, for our God is truly great, and today is "the day the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad!" Happy Easter!!

LITURGY VAULT

"The liturgy is celebrated for God and not for ourselves;
it is His work; He is the subject;
and we must open ourselves to Him"

(Pope Benedict XVI, 3 October 2012).

The Octave of Easter and Divine Mercy Sunday

"The Christian year reaches its supreme moments in the celebration of the Lord Jesus Christ, the Incarnate Word, risen indeed in our human flesh, glorified in that flesh, triumphant over the mortality of that flesh. Again and again, the liturgy resounds with the cry of 'alleluia!', as the people reborn through the Paschal Mystery wait in joyful hope for the day when they too will share the glory of their risen Lord" (Bishop Peter J. Elliott, Ceremonies of the Liturgical Year (2002), n. 312/ p. 155).

Easter Sunday of the Resurrection of the Lord is the first day of the Octave of Easter. An octave is "[t]he liturgical celebration of a feast for eight days—on the day itself and the seven following days" (Rev. Jovian P. Lang, OFM, Dictionary of the Liturgy (1989), p. 462). At one time, many liturgical feasts had octaves, but they were eventually suppressed except for the octaves of Christmas and Easter. The Octave of Easter begins with Easter Sunday, the "Feast of feasts", the "Solemnity of solemnities", and "the supreme day of the Christian year". The Sacred Paschal Triduum officially concludes with the Vespers on the evening of Easter Sunday. The Octave of Easter concludes with the "Octave Day of Easter" the following Sunday.

The Octave Day of Easter is known by many names: the First Sunday after Easter, the Second Sunday of Easter, Low Sunday, Dominica in albis (Latin for "White Sunday"), Thomas Sunday, Quasimodo Sunday, and since 2000, Divine Mercy Sunday.

According to Saint Maria Faustina Kowalska of the Blessed Sacrament (1905-1938), it was Christ Himself who desired that the first Sunday after Easter be known as the feast of Divine Mercy.

> "On that day the very depths of My tender mercy are open. I pour out a whole ocean of graces upon those souls who approach the fount of My mercy. The soul that will go to Confession and receive Holy Communion shall obtain complete forgiveness of sins and punishment. On that day all the divine floodgates through which grace flow are opened. Let no soul fear to draw near to Me, even though its sins be as scarlet. My mercy is so great that no mind, be it of man or of angel, will be able to fathom it throughout all eternity" (Divine Mercy in My Soul: The Diary of Saint Faustina, n. 699).

The Gospel reading that is appointed for the Octave Day of Easter (John 20:19-31) tells of the appearance of the Risen Christ to His disciples in the cenacle (upper room), as well as the institution of the Sacrament of Penance and Reconciliation:

> "Jesus said to them again, 'Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you.' And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them, 'Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained'" (John 20:21-23).

Divine Mercy Sunday is celebrated in a special way each year at Carmel Mission Basilica. Beginning at 3pm, the "Hour of Mercy", the Blessed Sacrament will be exposed for adoration and the Chaplet of Divine Mercy will be prayed. After this, priests will be available to hear confessions while adoration continues, and the rosary recited. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will take place at 5pm, followed by Mass at 5:30pm. All are welcome!

"The paschal mystery is the culmination of this revealing and effecting of mercy, which is able to justify man, to restore justice in the sense of that salvific order which God willed from the beginning in man, and through man, in the world" (St. John Paul II, Encyclical Letter Dives in misericordia ("Rich in Mercy"), n. 7).

Theology on Tap

Wednesday, April 24th, 6:30 PM
London Bridge Pub, 256 Figueroa Street
(at the foot of Wharf 2), Monterey

NOTE NEW STARTING TIME!

Our speaker this month will be Dr. Steve Keller, Ph.D. Dr. Keller's topic is "Designer Babies and Jurassic Park Have Arrived. Are We Ready? The Science, Ethics, and Catholic Church Position on Gene Editing and Cloning". The ethical implications of the rapidly emerging genetic technologies raise serious questions for all thinking people. You can now clone your pets, resurrect extinct animals (it's been done!), and create designer babies – but should you? Our Catholic teachings on genetic manipulation, IVF, gender selection, etc. are extensive but not always understood, particularly in the wider scientific context. Here's a chance to learn what's possible, and what the Church says we should or shouldn't do in the brave new world of genetics.

Dr. Keller is a Scientific Director at AbbVie, developing new medicines to treat cancer, inflammatory conditions, and Alzheimer's disease. He has a B.S. in Physiology and a Ph.D. in Human Genetics; and has co-authored many pharmaceutical industry papers.

Join us for interesting and enlightening conversation as we delve deeper into our faith and enjoy dinner with friends. All are welcome!

Join Monterey Theology on Tap on Facebook! You can also send questions to Deacon Warren Hoy at whoy@dioceseofmonterey.org
We hope to see you there!

Tickets can be purchased for $25 in the Parish Office, Mission Store and online through Eventbrite at www.eventbrite.com/e/jss-evening-of-the-arts-tickets-59323973602

You can also purchase a table of 8 for $175 through the JSS school office at 931.624.8322.

2019 AMA Campaign

The finish used on our pews is a two part finish manufactured by Sherwin-Williams.

The pews are sanded to natural wood before spraying them with the first part, a pigmented Sealer. After the sealer has dried completely, the coat is sanded lightly.

The second and final coat is a clear Conversion Varnish which is also sprayed on the pew.

This is a very hard and durable finish and will not damage easily.

Once again, I extend my great gratitude to all who have contributed so generously towards helping us meet our final goal of $150,000.

Lenten Blessings,
Fr. Paul

DOCENT CORNER/STEWARDSHIP

Lady of Bethlehem Wall Inscriptions

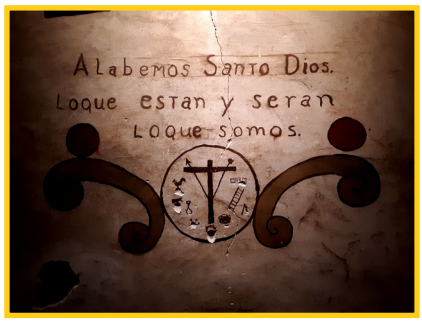
If you go into the Lady of Bethlehem Chapel you will find two inscriptions on the wall, some of which is the original writing and some of which has been restored. Here are the translations of these inscriptions:

First Inscription (on the right). The first is incomplete because the words are partially obliterated. The translator of the first inscription said the spelling was different from that used today. They also said the last words which are illegible could mean "soul" from a prayer that is typically prayed in Spain today.

O, Corazon de Jesus, siempre ardes y resplanderes, enciende e ilumina el mio .... (illegible) ... de tu Amor Divino.
O Heart of Jesus! Always burning and resplendent, you ignite and illuminate my . . . (soul) . . . of your Divine Love.

Angeles y santos, alabemos el Corazon de Jesus...
Angels and saints, let us praise the heart of Jesus...

Second Inscription (on the left). This inscription is semantically and syntactically incorrect probably due to the restorer's efforts to replicate the original words and a lack of a detailed knowledge of Spanish. The "Alabado" (Praise) was a traditional Mexican hymn that was sung at dawn. The word "Loque" is actually two words "lo" and "que", accents are missing and some words (like "y" for "and") are missing. The words below are corrected.



Alabemos Santo Dios

Let us praise Holy God

Lo que están y serán

For those who are and who will be

Y Lo que somos

And for what we are

Divine Mercy

The Divine Mercy of Jesus, also known as the Divine Mercy, is a Roman Catholic devotion to Jesus Christ associated with the reputed apparitions of Jesus revealed to Saint Faustina Kowalska. The Roman Catholic devotion and veneration image under this Christological title refers to the unlimited merciful love of God towards all people.

Pope John Paul II, a native of Poland, had great affinity towards this devotion and authorized it in the Liturgical Calendar of the church. The liturgical feast of the Divine Mercy is celebrated on the first Sunday after Easter.

In an entry in her diary, Sister Faustina Kowalska stated that anyone who participates in the Mass and receives the sacrament of Confession and the Eucharist on this day is assured by Jesus of full remission of their sins and punishments.
