FR. PAUL'S MESSAGE

Dear Friend of Carmel Mission,

This Gospel comes at a moment when fair labor practices are much in the news, especially here in the United States. While the Gospel does address justice in the workplace - all the workers are paid the fair agreed upon wage - it is more a discourse on generosity, specifically God's limitless generosity from which we all benefit. Again, Jesus is showing us that God's logic is not our human logic, and God's ways are not our ways. By our reckoning, people who worked eight hours should make more money than people who work one hour. But God does not think that way. No amount of hours worked can possibly earn God's love, God's mercy, and the promise of God's kingdom. These are gifts freely given to all.

Our human nature is often quite binary – good or bad, first or last, worthy or unworthy, in or out. God is far too creative for binaries, too mysterious for our assumptions. Our God is a God of infinite possibilities, whose ways are high above the human ways to which we are accustomed. God cannot be contained within made-up constructs that limit and constrain. God is free to act in the world, and always does so with an eye to the smallest detail and a comprehensive understanding of the cosmos. The intimate care God takes in our own lives and the deeply personal love God extends to us individually does not limit or distract from His attention to the entire universe. Unlike ourselves, God does not run out of bandwidth.

Imitating God's radical generosity in small ways can help us to better understand the mind of our loving God. It is natural for us to have somewhat of a scarcity mindset. Our survival on the most basic level requires us to have/find/acquire sufficient resources to sustain life. But God has no such need. When we approach God with a mindset based in gratitude we can begin to discover the great good such an attitude can achieve in our lives and in our world.

I wish you and your loved ones continued blessings of good health, new hope, and God's infinite love,

Fr. Paul

Scripture Reflection

The scenario in today's Gospel was a familiar one in first-century Palestine; the hopeful gathering of the unemployed in the marketplace, anxious for the subsistent but average daily wage, then the process of hiring. Everything is done justly; the wage is offered which is neither miserly nor overgenerous and is accepted by the laborers. As the demands of the day's work unfold more laborers are hired. At the "eleventh hour" near the end of the work day, the landowner comes out one more time and finds some still hanging around hopefully. With the patient hope of the poor, the "not chosen" have stood there all day, worried they would go home empty handed. When the time for payment comes, the last hired are the first paid, setting up Jesus' audience for what will come next. When the workers who toiled all day are affronted that latecomers are receiving the same recompense, the landowner reminds them that just as a fair wage is their right, generosity is his right. Jesus is once again telling us that God's logic is not our logic. God's generosity is always bigger than we imagined, and then it is bigger again still. None of us deserve the good things God gives us, they are not something that can be earned. God promises us the free and undeserved generosity that the latecomers receive in the parable. The first reading reminds us in no uncertain terms that God's ways are not our ways. As St. Paul voices in the second reading we are called to imitate God's ongoing self-gift. We can be united to Christ in both life and death when we strive to follow His example. The psalm refrain shows the stunning generosity of God; to be near to God all we have to do is call. God is already there awaiting our appeal. It is not as a challenging an image as the Gospel, but it is the same breathtaking truth – God's generosity far exceeds what we could expect or imagine.

ACT OF SPIRITUAL COMMUNION

My Jesus,

I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.

I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul.

Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart.

I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You.

Never permit me to be separated from You.

Amen.

Altar Flowers Opportunity

The Altar Flowers are given today in honor of Sister Mary Ana and the Franciscan Sisters of Christ the Light by Mary Steele.

Here at Carmel Mission we are very fortunate to be surrounded by natural beauty in our wonderful gardens, and we receive feedback from parishioners and visitors alike on how much they enjoy the flowers, plants and trees on our property. The beauty of nature is a concrete reminder of the beauty of God, in whose image we are made. When we enjoy beautiful flowers, plants and trees we are celebrating God's gift of the natural world.

We are so happy to continue the beauty of altar flowers at our Masses each week. We invite you to consider sponsoring a bouquet for $90 in memory or honor of a loved one, to celebrate a birthday or anniversary, or in thanksgiving to God.

The altar flowers will be a part of our weekend Masses and your dedication will included in our weekly e-bulletin.

Please contact Laura at liturgy@carmelmission.org for more information and to schedule your gift. Thank you so much for your generosity and for helping to ensure that these symbols of beauty and life are part of our weekly celebrations.

Carmel Mission Legacy Society

Click the thumbnail to the right to watch a short video about the Carmel Mission Legacy Society by Fr. Paul.

What is Legacy Society?

We owe an untold debt of gratitude to countless individuals — over many decades — whose benevolence made today's Mission a reality. Their generosity not only restored the Mission's structures to their former glory but also helped restore a house of faith, education, and outreach that is deeply rooted in our community.

This legacy of giving is the inspiration behind the Carmel Mission Legacy Society. Its purpose is to acknowledge past gifts and honor those who include Carmel Mission in their estate planning.

Legacy gifts provide a unique opportunity to ensure perpetual care for Carmel Mission. Your gift will help this historic and sacred church serve as a house of worship, an educational resource, and support for the most vulnerable in our community, for generations to come.

Ways You Can Give

Through planned giving, there are many ways to make a gift to Carmel Mission without impacting your own financial future. When you include Carmel Mission in your will or living trust or as a beneficiary of your retirement plan or life-insurance policy, you can plan, with confidence, that your generosity will support the Mission after your lifetime.

A legacy gift does not alter your current lifestyle in any way and allows you to leave a legacy without giving up your assets. It is important to note that the bequest is revocable, allowing you to change your mind at any time should your circumstances change.

FIRST LIBRARY OF CALIFORNIA

As an update to the ongoing Convento Library cataloging project, I'd like to focus today on some of the people who used these books in their daily lives and as part of their missionary activity. It was not uncommon in the eighteenth century, as it is today, for people to write their names in books that they owned. I still do the same, as I suspect many of you do, too. Franciscan brothers would often write their names in certain books, sometimes along with other information, in what we call inscriptions. It's been especially interesting while examining the Convento books to look at these inscriptions, since they tell us about who used a particular book and when, and they give us clues as to when the book arrived at our library and from where.

Of course I would be thrilled to report that we have books "signed" by, or inscribed by Saint Junipero. We don't. That's probably not a coincidence. Junipero Serra was above all a very humble man, and as a devout Franciscan he did not believe in personal ownership. Father Serra would have viewed the books in the library as common property, which is to say property of the Order of Friars Minor.

We do have one enticing piece of evidence, though, that Saint Serra used a particular book, and that is very special indeed. This book was printed in 1761 and bears the title: "El Peregrino con Guia," or "The Pilgrim with a Guide." It is otherwise a fairly nondescript book with a vellum, or leather, wrapped binding. On the back of the leather cover is an ink inscription that reads: "para el padre Junipero," or "for Father Junipero." This is so far the only book I've discovered with Father Serra's name on it. The reason for this particular inscription on the binding is hard to ascertain. The book might have been a gift, or someone simply wanted to indicate that Padre Junipero wanted to see this particular book, or maybe had even asked for it. In any case, we can certainly imagine Saint Junipero in his room, late at night, reading this particular book by candlelight.

We do have the names of some other missionaries in books, some well known, others not. Another name we might all recognize is that of Father Francisco Palou, Junipero Serra's biographer, one-time student, and good friend. In a large book on St. Bernardine of Siena, we read the Latin inscription on the title page: "Utilitur [for use by] Fray Franciscus Palou," using a Latinized version of his first name. Whether or not this is by his own hand is hard to determine and will require more close comparison with known examples of his writing, but nonetheless it shows his interest in this one book.

FIRST LIBRARY OF CALIFORNIA

A few of our bookworms are less known to us. A number of books contain handwritten inscriptions by Padre Dionisio Basterra. He is especially prominent in the first bookcase, that is, he liked the large books. The interesting fact about Father Basterra is that he never came up to Alta California. Instead, we find him in Baja, California, where Father Serra met him on his way up to founding Mission San Diego. We don't know much else about Basterra, except that he was a young man and completely on his own at Mission Santa Gertrudis. He eventually returned to the College of San Fernando in Mexico City. How the books with his name in them came to be here in Carmel is a mystery.

Finally, I'll introduce one last book lover, Pedro Benito Cambon. We know more about Father Cambon because he worked for many years in Alta California alongside Father Serra. Cambon departed for New Spain in 1769. His initial destination was the newly established mission of San Diego, but he went on to land at Monterey on 21 May, 1771. Once he arrived here on our own shores, Father Serra directed him and Fray Angel Somera to found Mission San Gabriel. This they did on 8 September, 1771. Soon enough, Cambon returned to San Diego, but bigger things were still in store for him. In 1776, Pedro Cambon and Francisco Palou reached the site of what was to become Mission Dolores in San Francisco. After three years there as Palou's assistant, Cambon returned to Mexico due to ill health, but he wasn't done yet. After recovering, he returned to San Gabriel, then went on to help found Mission San Buenaventura in 1782. His service in Alta California in fact continued until 1791. The next year he returned to his native Spain again in ill health, but his place and year of death are unknown.

This brief review of some of the readers and custodians of our Mission books will be followed in a few months time by another update, this time on the markings used by institutions and missions to claim ownership of their own books.

MISSION DOORS RESTORATION PROJECT

We have undertaken the much needed restoration of many of the beautiful wooden doors at Carmel Mission.

The doors of the Carmel Mission are based on designs seen throughout the California Mission Chain and designs replicated throughout the Southwest, Mexico, and Spain. We do have some information that is helpful..

For example the Mission's main entrance doors we are fairly certain are based on Sir Harry Downie's affinity of the doors at Mission Dolores.

MISSION DOORS RESTORATION PROJECT

The much heralded and appreciate “River of Life” door design has been given much attention as it is a prominent feature at many of our Historic Missions. From a traditional understandings that has grown over time the River of Life motif is a direct reference to Revelation 22:

1 And he showed me a river of water of life, bright as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb, 2 in the midst of the street thereof. And on this side of the river and on that was the tree of life, bearing twelve manner of fruits, yielding its fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

From and other perspective the three wavy lines have been linked to the trinity. The design of three is a common motif in Church architecture.

As you will see in the before and after photographs, the restoration has brought new life to many of the doors.

MISSION DOORS RESTORATION PROJECT

This project has also given us an opportunity to observe the diversity of architectural styles and incredible workmanship that went into creating the doors.

In a recent conversation pertaining to the unique design with noted Spanish Colonial architecture expert Gloria Giffords shared that all of these perspectives are “dandy ideas”. She shared we really don’t know where these interpretations come from because we don’t have any documentation from when this design was first introduced. In a world that offers so many answers and information it is good that our Mission Church still has a few more mysteries to share. It is even better that we continue to preserve and protect these unique architectural features for future generations to ponder and explore.

Sunday, September 24

Priesthood Sunday is a special day set aside to honor the priesthood in the United States. It is a day to reflect upon and affirm the role of the men who were called to be Christ's priests on earth as central to the life of the Church. In recognizing all that priests do for the community, both seen and unseen, we encourage parishioners to show their support for our priests by thanking them for their loyal service: a smile, a "thank you," a note, a card, a remembrance, a prayer – all these assure our priests of our gratitude for them and their presence in the life of our parish.
